Buff and Blue Will Meet Trinity Here a Week From This Saturday

Line-Up Unknown

Hamilton Has Heavier Team Than Last Year's—Coach Winters Shifts Men

With the opening game of the 1937 season scarcely two weeks away, the Hamilton Continentals are slowly shaping up for their tussle with Trinity College on October 2nd. Faced with the problem of building up a powerful line, Coach Art Winters has developed a potentially strong squad to take the field against the Connecticut eleven.

Rated as one of the strongest small college teams in the East last year, Trinity overwhelmed the Buff and Blue by a 28-0 score. This year, however, Trinity will be without the services of Mickey Kobrosky, chosen on many All-American teams at the end of the 1936 season. Kobrosky proved to the Continentals last year that he was one of the finest passers in the football game just as he proved the same fact to thousands in the late All-Star and Giant Professional clash at the Polo Grounds early in September.

The Continentals went down to defeat last year mainly because of Kobrosky's passing but they have nothing to fear in that line this year. In spite of Kobrosky's absence, Coach Winters has been giving his boys an intensive drilling against passes throughout the past week.

As things look at the present, Hamilton will have a heavier line than she did last year. Although still shaky in reserve strength, the changing of Gus Erickson from a backfield position to guard has strengthened the Continentals considerably. At present he is paired with Hockey McGinn at the guard positions. Although McGinnis is light, he is well-versed in his football knowledge, having played guard on last year's team. Erickson weighs 180 and is fast, thus giving Coach Winters two fast and fairly heavy guards. The center position, vacated by Myron Carmer, who held that spot for the last two years, is now being filled by Greg Dwyer. Greg has already proven himself to be a scrapper and makes up for his lack of weight by his fight.

Hamilton Begins Drive to Locate College Material

Toward the close of the last college year, the Trustees, working through the medium of the Admissions Department, undertook a study of the methods which could be employed in an effort to elevate the academic and extra-curricular standards of the undergraduate body by securing men of higher qualifications as students. From that work a program has evolved which will be used in connection with the Class of 1942, the class which will enter college next September.

New York State will be the greatest field of concentration, for the present at least, since it is within those limits that the most effective work can be accomplished. The Field Secretary will canvass the schools of the state, interviewing the principals in an effort to single out men of the type which are desired at Hamilton. The names of all such men will be turned over to the alumni committees, expressly organized for the purpose of the promotion of college growth. As an objective, the Admissions Department has in mind the establishment of close personal contact with these prospective candidates in order that they may be made to feel the interest which Hamilton men have in them. Contact work may be carried on either by individual attention or through larger group gatherings. In the metropolitan areas group meetings will be called, and the Admissions Office will cooperate in their sponsorship.

A full-color motion picture of the campus and College activities is now being made. When completed, this will be carried by the Field Secretary and will be available to the Alumni Associations for special showings wherever prospective candidates are involved.

All alumni and undergraduates are especially urged to communicate to the Office of the Registrar the names of any men of their acquaintance who will make good Hamilton material, in order that further contact with them may be made. A coupon is supplied on page four in order to facilitate the sending in of such names.

Robbins Preaches In Chapel Sunday

The chapel preacher on Sunday, September 19, was the Rev. Professor Howard C. Robbins, D.D., of the General Theological Seminary, New York City. Taking his text from the Eighth Chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, Dr. Robbins concluded that the solution of world problems today lies in the acceptance of Christian doctrines and practices as the motivating forces of our lives, all other more worldly ideals of leadership having failed.

The speaker next Sunday will be the Rev. Theodore Cuyler Speers of the Central Presbyterian Church in New York City. Mr. Speers was formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Utica and has spoken in the Hamilton chapel several times. He received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Hamilton at the commencement exercises last June.

Sophomore Class Wins Traditional Flag Rush After First Chapel of the Year Last Thursday

Last Thursday morning the Class of '41 tried its hardest to emulate the example set by the freshman class in the flag rush last year, but to no avail. Led by Wes Perine, the slimers rushed out of the chapel several minutes after the sophomores had congregated beneath the old Yale pennant which was the center of attraction of the traditional struggle between the freshman and sophomore classes. After a momentary halt at the foot of the chapel steps for last-minute instructions, the freshmen hurled themselves at the jeering mob of sophomores.

Much to the surprise of the slimers, the front ranks of the sophomores gave way almost at the first onslaught, but the freshmen soon found that the intention of the Class of '40 was to surround them and to enclose them in a large circle, where they could be held down more easily. Regardless of the soundness of the theory, the strategy worked, for by the end of three minutes, when the final whistle blew, the Yale pennant was still waving from the rope above the contestants' heads. Once again, as a result of the flag rush, the freshmen will be denied the privilege of wearing knickers or red in any form on the campus, whereas the sophomores may sport green at their pleasure. The rule prohibiting the freshmen to wear knickers or anything red will be subject to the enforcement of the sophomores.

As soon as some semblance of order was restored after the rush, all the students, as well as many members of the faculty and their families, gathered on the lawn in the middle of the quadrangle to watch the freshmen pit their best wrestlers against the sophomore challengers. The results of the lightweight, middleweight, and heavyweight wrestling matches were one victory for the freshmen, one for the sophomores, and one draw. D'Agostino, representing the Class of '41 in the lightweight division, defeated Barton '40; Miller '41 and Sanson '40 fought to a draw in the middleweight; in the heavyweight, Brown '41 lost to Gardner '40.

In the relay race which followed, the sophomores again won a decisive victory, in spite of the valiant attempts of the four freshmen on the freshman team to shorten the lead which the first sophomore runner made in the first minute of the race. Maloy, Clarke, Kelly, and Mark represented the sophomores in the relay, Jessup, Millner, Frees, and Knox the freshmen.

As is usually the case, the freshmen managed to redeem themselves slightly by winning the tug-of-war. Their glory was short-lived, however, for they were soon unceremoniously ushered off the grass by the sophomores. The sophomores didn't let go of the rope quite soon enough to cause the freshman to fall like a line of dominoes; they did, however, make up for lost time once they started after the freshmen. There were numerous individual scufflles dotting the lawns for quite some time after the majority of the freshmen had taken to the paths, but by the time the first bell rang to announce that college was again in session, most of the freshmen were carefully evading the strips of grass.

A look into the records discloses the fact that contrary to common belief, the freshmen used to win the flag rush every year. A stop was put to their victories in 1929, however, when the sophomores started the custom of hanging the flag themselves. Since then, the freshman have only won it once.

Hatfield Replaces Hamlin as Doctor At the Infirmary

During the past summer, the Hamilton College Infirmary has had its staff both renovated and strengthened. In addition to Dr. A. R. Hatfield Jr., who succeeded V. B. Hamlin, M.D., after his resignation last spring, two specialists have been added to the staff to take care of x-ray and pathological work. All three physicians are on the staff of Faxton Hospital in Utica, and are also members of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Hatfield attended the Liberal Arts College of Cornell University and received his M.D. from McGill in 1931. He is a member of the Utica Academy of Medicine, the Oneida County Medical Society, the Children's Hospital Home, and the Utica Dispensary. His brother, John B. Hatfield, graduated from Hamilton in 1936.

Dr. R. C. Hall, of Clinton, who will have charge of all x-ray work needed by students, graduated from Toronto in 1920. Besides being associated with the Radiology Department of the Faxton Hospital, he is also connected with the General and Free Dispensary in Utica.

C. D. Gallagher, M.D., is a specialist in pathological and bacteriological work, being the Director of the Laboratory in the Utica Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Hatfield will be in attendance at the infirmary for an hour or an hour and a half each day, instead of for the former length of time of twenty or thirty minutes.

The new infirmary hours are as follows:

Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday—directly after chapel.

Every day but Saturday and Sunday—4:30-5:30 P.M.

Saturday and Sunday—11:45 A.M.-12:45 P.M.

Five Seniors in Phi Beta Kappa

Announcement of the first election of members of the class of 1938 to the Phi Beta Kappa Society was made in chapel last Thursday morning, at which time five of this year's seniors were honored by being chosen members of that society. For the last few years, the first elections from any class were made in the spring of its junior year, but last spring it was decided that hereafter the first elections from any class shall be made only after the recommendation of a committee selected to examine a candidate's extracurricular activities as well as his scholastic standing. This committee was unable to report last spring; for that reason the first elections from the Class of 1938 were not made until this fall.

It was also decided by the Hamilton chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society last spring that hereafter no students shall be elected to the society in the June of their senior year, but a second election will be made later.

The five seniors who received election to membership in Phi Beta Kappa last week were Robert Livingston Allen, Hamadan, Iran; Walter Francis Cronin, 223 E. Walnut Street, Oneida, N. Y.; David Maldwyn Ellis, 1446 Elm Street, Utica, N. Y.; Charles Robert Gibbs, 11 Pleasant View Place, Whitesboro, N. Y.; and Alfred Lunt Putnam, Pearl Street, Forestville, N. Y.

FACULTY MARRIAGES

Two members of the Faculty were married this summer. On July 3 Dr. Stieg, college librarian, married Miss Mildred Graf of Buffalo; on the 6th of July Dr. Liedke married Miss Ruth Benton of Oneida.

Thirty-Five Men Report at Soccer Practice Monday

Approximately 35 aspirants answered Coach Gelas' call for varsity soccer men last Friday, and although several of last year's lettermen were missing, enough remained to give promise of a good team this fall.

With a number of veterans on hand to form a nucleus for this year's team, Coach Gelas also found several promising sophomore stars trying out for positions. With these men available in addition to the letter-men of last year, the Buff and Blue should be well represented on the soccer field this year.

Although men such as Wager and Pelott will be sorely missed this year, others including Captain Laux, Kellogg, Boyd, D'Agostino, Tucker, and Matthews all of whom won their letters last year will strengthen the team considerably.

Sophomores who look like potential first-string caliber include Nichols, Sprague, and Geer, all stars on last year's freshman squad. Hoch, Fred Nichols, Gillan, and Fullerton are also good prospects.

The soccer season opens with a contest against R. P. I. on October 2, to be played at Troy.

Others to be met during this season include Williams, Rochester, Colgate, and Bard.

Gym Committee To Meet Friday

After its meeting in New York City this Friday night, Hamilton's Gymnasium Fund Committee is expected to launch officially the campaign for funds for the long sought-for gym. Under the chairmanship of William M. Bristol, '17, the Committee expects to draw up final plans at that time; it may make a few revisions in its personnel when the actual drive is begun. President Ferry left the Hill Monday for New York City, where he will attend the meeting to be held Friday evening. He will probably return to Hamilton some time Saturday.

Among other contributions recently received by the Committee has been a pledge of one thousand dollars from the Centennial Class, who at their twenty-fifth reunion last June were able to announce that already $650.00 had been contributed by their membership toward the goal set.

Class of 1941 Meets Faculty at Annual Reception for Freshmen Saturday Evening

Last Saturday evening President and Mrs. Ferry again entertained the incoming freshmen with a reception at their home. Almost all of the freshmen took advantage of this opportunity of meeting President and Mrs. Ferry informally, as well as of becoming acquainted with several of their professors. Quite a few of the professors' wives and daughters were also present. The reception lasted from eight until ten, and like all the freshman receptions of past years it did much to make the freshmen feel at home at Hamilton, as well as to enable the professors to meet their students outside of the classroom.

Many of the freshmen also took advantage of the opportunity offered by the reception to become better acquainted with other members of their own class. A few spent most of their time hovering about the tables at which refreshments were served, which, as alway at the Ferry's, did much to augment the feeling of welcome and hospitality which prevailed.

Psi U's Pledge 15

This Year's Freshman Class Is Smallest in 15 Years With 118 Members

According to latest reports, 76 out the 118 members of this year's freshman class have already affiliated themselves with one or another of the ten fraternities at Hamilton. The Psi U's lead the field with fifteen pledges, of whom one is a sophomore. The only other house to report sophomore pledges is Delta Upsilon, which claims five men from the Class of 1940. The D. U's run the Psi U's a close second with thirteen pledges; none of the other fraternities have over ten. The total number of freshmen pledged so far this year is eight less than the number of freshmen pledged during the first two weeks of rushing last fall. The complete list of pledges follows:

Sigma Phi—Class of 1941: Frederick P. Jessup, 7 Main Street, Ridgefield, Conn.; John F. Juraschek, 21 Cresthill Place, Stamford, Conn.; John D. Wilson Jr., 29 Lake Street, Montrose, Penna,; William C. Zahn, 23 Filbert Street, Valley Stream, L. I.

Alpha Delta Phi—Class of 1941: Henry N. Arms, Greenfield Hill, Fairfield, Conn.; Robert O. Brennan, 6 Cottage Place, Utica, N. Y.; Leslie T. Carpenter, Greenwich, Conn.; Bartram H. Davies, 540 W. 122nd Street, New York, N. Y.; Herbert G. Drew, Lyons Falls, N. Y.; George M. Frees, 117 S. Hoopes Street, Auburn, N. Y.; Prentice M. Hatch Jr., 45 Urban Street, Stamford, Conn.; Edward J. Kiley, 139 East 7th Street, Oswego, N. Y.; Donald A. LeFevre, 1089 Ardsley Road, Schenectady, N. Y.; Laurance P. Miller, 304 Glen Avenue, Port Chester, N. Y.; Richard S. White, Rye, N. Y.

Psi Upsilon—Class of 1940: Emmett B. Shutt Jr., Airmont Road, Rumsey, N. J. Class of 1941: Frederick B. Ames, Cortland, N. Y.; William B. Baxter, 52 Church Avenue, Ballston Spa., N. Y.; A. Four Changes Are Made in Faculty For Coming Year

The opening of College this fall finds four changes in the personnel of the Faculty, as well as the creation of a new position—that of Assistant Secretary of Admissions.

During Mr. Shute's one-year leave of absence, his music classes will be taught by Donald N. Tweedy, well-known author and composer, who received his M.A. from Harvard in 1912, comes from Danbury, Conn., where he organized and still conducts the famous Danbury Music Festival. He has taught at Vassar, and is the author of the well-known text-book on harmony which has been in use at Hamilton for the last two years.

The place held last year by Prof. George H. Perrine as assistant in the Department of Romance Languages has been given to LeRoy Albert Howland Jr., M.A., a graduate of Wesleyan College, where his father is Dean of the Faculty.

Philip V. Rogers, who graduated from Hamilton in the class of 1931, has been appointed Instructor in Biology. He held the same position from the time of his graduation until 1935, when he went to Yale to secure his doctor's degree.

Another Hamilton man, recently appointed to the Faculty is Robert George Miner, '34, who has been given an instructorship in Public Speaking. For the past three years he has been a member of the Roberts College Faculty at Istambul, Turkey.

Fendall W. Yerxa, who graduated from Hamilton last year, has been chosen for the new post of Assistant Secretary of Admissions, and Peter Hoch, a present senior, has been appointed undergraduate instructor of public speaking.

Members of Glen Lane Orchestra Play On Ship for Passage to Europe and Back

September is the time for reminiscing, and if you ask Bart Nesbitt, Theta Delta Chi sophomore, to reminisce about his vacation, you'll be treated to an interesting story.

Nesbitt, one of the finest dance pianists on the campus, was a member of the Hamilton Glen Lane Orchestra that provided the dance music for the passengers on the Veendam, Holland-American luxury liner, on its eastward and westward voyages this summer.

The orchestra, composed of Nesbitt, F. Andrew Brown, '37, Russell E. Newkirk, '39, Edward Gray Guy, '37, and Raymond E. Martin, Clinton youth, sailed on the Dutch steamer on July 10th. At Rotterdam the musicians abandoned their saxophones and trumpets and split up to explore foreign shores.

Nesbitt took a train through Holland and spent the summer bicycling in Germany.

"The people in Germany seem rather reluctant to talk about their condition. I don't know what to deduce from that," said Nesbitt when interviewed, "but outwardly they are very happy and friendly, especially to Americans."

Nesbitt met two Englishmen in Munich and traveled with them the remainder of his journey. Newkirk and Martin decided on Vienna and Paris as their tour-centers, while Guy and Andy Brown visited Italy.

The group gathered again at Rotterdam on September 4th and reluctantly made music as the boat steamed back to New York City.

"A wonderful trip," Nesbitt explained, "but nevertheless, I did get tired of Nazi uniforms and the millions of flags that lined almost every village street."

HAMILTON COLLEGE, CLINTON, N. Y., SEPTEMBER 22, 1937

WELCOME

Hi Freshmen! You have now been at Hamilton for over a week and should be beginning to get an idea of what it is all about. The hectic times of rush week are over, and the big push has begun. HAMILTON LIFE would like to take this opportunity to welcome each and every member of the Class of 1941 and to wish you the best of luck, marks, and good times for the next four years.

Hamilton is a small and self-sufficient community—probably quite unlike anything that most of you have run up against before. But although it is small, the quality of its membership is excellent, and a good time as well as an instructive one is to be had by anybody willing to pitch in and cooperate. Things may seem a bit strange at first, but it won't be long before you begin to fit into the college life. Then Hamilton will mean to you as much as it does to us.

Hamilton offers you all that a college student could want; excellent professors, a large and well-filled library for the studious, the best in fraternity life for the socially inclined, and a diversified and well-handled athletic program for all lovers of sport. Very few men ever leave Hamilton with anything else in their hearts but a sincere love and admiration for the College on the Hill.

LIFE again welcomes you to a type of life that few of you have ever experienced before, and to a life that should furnish you with many of the happiest moments of your career. May your success be great and pleasant.

UPPERCLASS P. T.

Last spring the Honor Court tried the experiment of letting the juniors and seniors at Hamilton do their three hours a week of P. T. on their own initative, handing in a card Saturday stating what they had done and when they had done it. This system was inaugurated in an effort to take the drudgery out of the upperclassmen's P. T. work. It was thought that during the spring and fall the average Hamilton College student did enough exercise for his own pleasure on the local golf course and tennis courts to render unnecessary his attendance at regular P. T. classes. All juniors and seniors were put on their honor to do their exercise each week and to hand the record of it in by noon on Saturday. The penalty for handing in cards without having done the exercise was that of being put back in the drudgery of regular P. T. classes.

This fall the Honor Court is again attempting the experiment. Obviously this system is greatly preferable to that of going to regular classes three times a week, from the standpoint of the students and the Physical Education department. Any sensible student will see the advantages of this plan at a glance. However, to make this plan a success will take the cooperation of every upperclassman on the Hill. Naturally the Honor Court cannot be expected to watch over the reports of every junior and senior to see to it that every one is playing the game squarely. If too many men attempt to hand in cards without having done any of the exercise indicated on them, the plan will have to be abandoned, and regular classes will have to start again. A few men may try to cheat—they will be put back in regular classes. But if the majority of the two classes will cooperate, the plan cannot help but be a success. We sincerely hope that the juniors and seniors will cooperate by conforming to the rules—that they will not make it necessary to return to regular P. T. classes. Hamilton's Honor System has long been notable for being one Honor System which actually works—but its efficiency and reputation depend upon the students themselves. It would be a serious blow to the whole Honor System if P. T. were to be abused now that it is being put under the supervision of the Honor Court.

On the other hand, the success of the proposed plan will signify the great success of the Honor System at Hamilton, for this seems to be the greatest test to which it has ever been put.

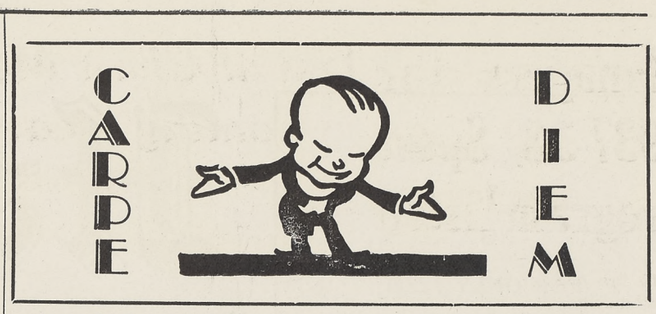
FRANKLIN SQUARE UTICA, N.Y.



Carpe feels very happy this year because there are so many nice freshmen running about the campus in their pretty little green caps and joyous countenances. They make us realize what a picturesque spot we have got ourselves into. We can just imagine how their bright unsullied minds are squirming with the anticipation of all the useful things that are about to be CRAMMED into them. We can remember quite vividly our first impression of Hamilton. It was like joining another world. There were so many new things to see: the library, with all its nooks and crannies—what a feast for the curious!—its labyrinthine stacks upon stacks of books and old magazines, the browsing room and the students lounging with their feet on the chairs and burning cigarette holes in the furniture with their customary infectious naivete—and then the administration building with its sleek, impressive, linoleum halls, and important looking desks. We envy you, 1941.

There seems to be a new fad in rushing. For those houses that haven't been let in on it yet, all you have to do is to run out of all but two pledge buttons and then tell three Freshmen that they have thirty seconds to fight over them. The only trouble is that the boy that isn't quick on the draw is left out of things and must go begging at the door of some kind boys who'll take him in before a match burns out.

It seems that one of our well-known Alumni recently asked a friend of his who is well-versed in modern fiction if he knew what the former Mrs. Simpson's favorite novel was. After a long pause, his friend gave up, whereupon our Alumnus promptly replied, "Gone with the Wind, sir." Darned clever, these Alumni.

Managers for 1937-38 Sport Program Listed

The first list of managers to be selected under the new system of elections adopted by the General Association last spring has been announced, as well as the list of assistant managers, who are chosen on the basis of their ability coupled with their respective choices of the sports which they wish to manage.

In the line-up of fall sports, the selections are as follows: Football: Manager, J. Parrott; Assistant Manager, H. G. Underwood. Soccer: Manager, W. J. Deller; Assistant Manager, W. A. Jones.

This winter Basketball will be managed by D. J. Keane Jr., with R. A. Dudley as his assistant. In Hockey, the manager will be D. B. Laird, the assistant manager D. W. Fuller. R. A. Reynolds will manage Fencing, with the assistance of D. J. Doyle. The manager of the ski team will be F. K. Taylor, and his assistant, G. R. Weeden.

For spring sports the following men have been chosen: Baseball: Manager, R. F. Nichols; Assistant Manager, R. B. Allen. Tennis: Manager, P. E. Higinbotham. Golf: Manager, J. Bingenheimer.

No track manager has yet been selected to replace R. Rivett, who did not return to college, nor have assistant managers been selected for Tennis, Golf, and Track.

MR. ROOT TO SPEAK IN CHAPEL ON OCTOBER 23

The President's office announced yesterday that the regular fall meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held on Saturday, the twenty-third of October. At that time Mr. Elihu Root Jr. is expected to address the student body at the regular Saturday morning chapel.

Mr. Root is a member of the class of 1903 and has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the College since 1924. At the present time he is a lawyer in New York City. His last speech on the Hill was given last spring when he addressed the Faculty Club.

MEETINGS CALL FERRY FROM HILL THIS WEEK

President Frederick C. Ferry left early this week for several days in Philadelphia and New York.

The semi-annual meeting of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education called the Hill president to Philadelphia this Tuesday and Wednesday. Traveling to New York Thursday, he will attend several meetings of Committees of the Board of Trustees, among which is the committee on nominations. This group may decide on a name to fill the vacancy in the board caused by the death of the late Elihu Root.

It is expected that he will return to the Hill late this Saturday afternoon, together with other administrative officers who are likewise attending meetings.

NOTICES

During Professor Shute's absence, the Record Library in Silliman Hall will be taken over by the College Library. There will be some one in attendance at Silliman Hall every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon from 1:00 P.M. until 2:00 P.M. to supervise the withdrawal of records. Records may be taken out by students or by fraternity houses on payment of a small lump sum for the semester, such rental fees to be paid at the Bursar's Office. Any student wishing to draw records should bring with him a receipt signed by the Bursar. There is no limit set on the number of records within reason drawn at one time or on the length of time for which they may be drawn.

Once again there is on exhibition in the College Library the collection of paintings offered for rental to Hamilton students every semester. This collection, carefully selected by Mr. Edward W. Root, includes several excellent reproductions of famous paintings as well as two color prints by the naturalist Audubon and an original by Richard Carver Wood of the Class of '24. Any painting may be rented by students, faculty members, or fraternity houses for a nominal price per semester ranging from twenty-five cents to one dollar.

Alumni Notes

By Professor Edward Fitch

Rev. E. W. Abbey, D.D., '71, became pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church of Smithtown, L. I., on September 12, after having served that congregation for thirty-four years.

Just off the press is a book of 64 pages, "Fifty Years After," being the permanent record of the class of 1887. The book contains the secretary's report, the Half-Century Letter, and carefully made sketches of all who were at any time members of the class. The frontispiece shows the four faces of the class stone, which marks the intersection of the Property Line with the College Hill road. The book is published by Abram R. Serven, president of the class, and Robert A. Patteson, secretary, and is edited and arranged by Frederick G. Perine.

Edgar S. Hassard, '28, and Mrs. Jean Wallace Irvine, widow of Walter Ellis Irvine, were married on August 15 in the Marble Collegiate Church, New York City.

Lloyd V. Almirall, '29, and Miss Catherine Lewerth of Brooklyn were married at the bride's home in Brooklyn on September 17.

A recent number of the Andover-Newton Bulletin contained an article entitled "Meanings in the New Poetry," by Professor Amos N. Wilder, D.D.

The approaching marriage of Joseph B. Hollinshead, '33, and Miss Jean Wells, Wellesley, '32, has been announced for September 25. Both were graduated from the Yale Medical School in June, and their engagement was announced then. Dr. Hollinshead is an interne in the Hartford Hospital.

Robert J. Hicks, '33, is a graduate student of German at Columbia University.

Robert C. Waddell, '34, is an instructor in English at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and John W. Bicknell, '35, holds a like position in St. Lawrence University.

George H. Minor, '36, of Cleveland, and Miss Dorothy Taft Sears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Sears of Binghamton, were married September 7 at the Sears home. Mr. and Mrs .Minor are residing in Cambridge, Mass., where he is a student in the Harvard School of Business Administration.

Richard A. Jenks, '32, and Miss Mary Roberts, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Roberts, were married in St. Paul's Church, Toronto, on August 22. Mr. Jenks, a graduate of the Brooklyn Law School, is connected with the legal department of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

William J. Taylor, '37, entered St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester on September 7, in preparation for the priesthood.

Eugene Elliott Avery, '32, teacher in the Hoosick Falls high school, and Miss Hazel M. Chamberlain of Hoosick Falls, were married in the College Chapel on August 24. Rev. Samuel J. Holt, '32, performed the ceremony.

Announcement was made on July 29 that Milton Kaplan, '37, had received one of the twenty-one awards to students in Harvard Law School, with stipends totaling $9,000.

G. Glenn Sprague, '37, studied at Syracuse University during the summer, and is now teaching in the Oriskany High School of which Charles W. MacLean, '27, is principal.

Since commencement the deaths of the following alumni have been reported: William H. DeShon, '70, July 8; Robert H. Hall, '86, July 3; Henry H. Pease, '99, August 26; Philip M. Wygant, '07, August 13; Chester T. Stone, '09, August 27; Willard A. Gow, '16, August 10.

THIRTY MEN ANSWER '41 FOOTBALL CALL

A squad of about thirty men answered Coach Weber's call for freshman football Monday afternoon on the practice field. Although no positions have been assigned as yet, there is a good supply of line candidates on the squad, and the men as a whole seem to be a little heavier than those on last year's freshman team. Practice was confined to the fundamentals of blocking and tackling and the trying out of some of the simpler pass plays. As yet it is impossible to judge the probable strength of the freshman team.

CLASSES TO COMPETE IN CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Winters announced recently that there is so much interest in cross country running this year that the Physical Training Department will sponsor interfraternity and interclass competition in that sport.

For upperclassmen, this running is included under the sports open to them under the optional P. T. system readopted this fall; it also affords an opportunity for the members of the track team to keep in shape during the fall season. The proposed intermural competition is to take place in October on a two to two-and-a-half mile course laid out on the college campus. The same system of scoring used in the interfraternity track meet each spring will be adopted. Practice began among representatives of the three upper classes last week. Members of the Class of '41 who are interested in cross country are asked to see Coach Winters.

DAILY PAPERS ON FILE IN HAMILTON LIBRARY

The Hamilton College Library announces that three vicinity daily newspapers have been added to the list to which the library already subscribes. "The Syracuse Post-Standard", "The Rome Sentinel", and the "Utica Observer-Dispatch" are available to student readers every morning. It is pointed out that Hamilton College news regularly appears in these dailies.

Hamilton Life Competition To Start

Saturday morning, immediately after chapel, there will be a very important meeting of all sophomores wishing to compete for the editorial staff of Hamilton Life. It is important that all sophomores planning to go out for Life be present at that meeting. The meeting will be held in the College Chapel. Any sophomores who for some reason are unable to attend the meeting Saturday should hand their names to Robert L. Allen, Lambda Chi Alpha House.

There will be an important meeting of all juniors and seniors on the editorial staff of Life immediately after chapel tomorrow morning. Every reporter and editor is urged to attend since tomorrow's meeting will inaugurate the new system adopted last spring under which every member of the staff will hereafter continue to take part in editing Life.

It was decided at a recent meeting of the business staff that hereafter the competition for the business staff of Hamilton Life shall not begin until after the spring vacation, at which time all sophomores wishing to compete for the position of business manager will report.

FRESHMAN CLASS IS SMALLEST IN YEARS

Although exact statistics concerning the Class of '41 are not available, a cursory glance at it reveals several unusual features. Most striking is the fact that this year's entering class of 118 members is the smallest to have entered Hamilton for the last fifteen years—the smallest since the entrance of the Class of 1926.

Economically and socially the Class of '41 represents a cross-section of American life; its members come from all kinds of homes. As is usually the case, the great majority of this year's freshmen come from some part of the State of New York, although nine states are represented in this year's entering class, as well as the District of Columbia. Canada is also represented in one member of the class. Two of this year's freshmen—James and John Underwood—came from Korea this summer in order to enter Hamilton this fall. They already have a brother Horace at college. They look so much alike that almost nobody can tell them apart—they even act alike when they are together.

1937 HANDBOOK SHOWS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The 1937-38 edition of the Hamilton College Handbook appeared for sale at the College Store over a week ago, in time for each freshman to purchase his copy before College started. Several innovations, as well as the best material of former editions, were incorporated in this year's Handbook, making it one of the best yet to have appeared on the Hill.

Included in the list of improvements were a new and better cover, a schedule card, a handy list for keeping track of one's cuts, the list of chapel preachers for this year the Dean's List, most of the sport's scvhedules for the coming year, and an up-to-date dictionary of the slang peculiar to Hamilton College.

According to Editor Winant Sidle, "The Handbook is a necessary accessory in the life of every freshman at Hamilton College, and it would be worth the while of every undergraduate to purchase one, since almost anything that a Hamilton student might want to know can be found between the covers of this masterpiece"—plus much else. Credit for this year's Handbook goes to Winant Sidle, Editor, and Frank Taylor, Business Manager, both of the class of '38.

Sport Notes

By Winant Sidle, '38

Hamilton's football hopes seem to rest on the ability of comparatively untried material. The old bugaboos of ineligibility and flunking out and other mishaps that annually remove several of the locals' returning lettermen have returned this year with a vengeance. Danny Wells, Gar Hole, and Bert Bohlin, three swell tackle prospects, have failed to report for practice, since Danny is working in Radio City, Gar is ineligible, and Bert has gone to Purdue. This leaves the tackle positions wide open with letterman George Beilby Frank Thomas, Murray Gardner, and George Nevin staging a dogfight for the two positions. At the present writing, Beilby seems to have the edge over the other three due to his experience and also his fine showing in Monday's scrimmage session. At guard "Hockey" McGinn apparently nas one position cinched due to the fact that he played first string last year, and seems even better this season. Bill Erickson, a converted back, Tom Platt, and Chuck Nord seem to be the outstanding men fighting for the other guard slot. Since Captain Myron Carmer, regular center for the past two years, has been shifted to the backfield, the center job is far from settled, but Greg Dwyer, who saw a lot of service last year, has the edge. Marty Hilfinger, who is one of the best ends that Hamilton has had in quite a while, has his end position cinched, with Winant Sidle and Steve Remis out for the other end of the line. The backfield is in pretty good shape with Gene Sullivan, Dick Farrell, Bill Masters, Bill Towner, and Hugh Riddleberger, all lettermen of proven ability, giving Carmer a tussle for the ball-carrying positions. Prognosticating is bad stuff, but it is safe to say that the chances for a winning Continental squad are not as bad as they seemed to be before practice actually started. In fact, if a couple of new men come through, the locals may turn out a pretty good team.

We seem to have a prodigious golfer in our midst. John Wilson, one of the class of 1941, has been credited with a drive on the third hole of the local nine that came within an ace of going in the creek. And we don't mean the creek that most of us go in (the one that runs beside the third fairway); we mean the one about is about 30 yards in front of the third green. Quite a wallop. We hope the rest of his game is as good.

60 Students on Dean's List Now

According to a list posted on the bulletin board of the Library last week, thirty-nine seniors, eighteen juniors, and three sophomores are on the Dean's List for the first semester.

The administrative rules of the Faculty state that seniors with an average standing of 80 or above, juniors with an average standing of 85 or above, and sophomores and freshmen with an average standing of 90 or above, for the previous semester in each case, shall be admitted to the Dean's List. No restrictions in absences from regular classroom exercises are imposed on undergraduates on the Dean's List, except that this privilege does not extend to absences from weekday and Sunday chapel, from choir, from physical education classes, or from announced quizzes and examinations.

Any undergraduate may at any time be removed from the Dean's List by the Faculty on the recommendation of the Committee on Attendance and Scholarship.

Members of the Dean's List for the first semester of the college year 1937-38 are as follows:

Seniors

David G. Adams, Caldwell, New Jersey; Robert L. Allen, Holland Patent; John J. Bingenheimer, Niagara Falls; Charles K. Brown, Deposit; Allan W. Cantor, Staten Island; Walter F. Cronin, Oneida; Robert L. deCourcy, Darien, Conn.; Thomas R. Dedell, Utica; Vincent deLalla, Utica.

E. Cecil Eagan, Castleton, Vt.; T. Leslie Elliott, Manchester; David M. Ellis, Utica; William D. Getman, Syracuse; Charles R. Gibbs, Whitesboro; Peter C. Hoch, White Plains; Charles A. Hoffman, Utica; H. Craig Hutchinson, Kenmore.

Daniel J. Keane Jr., Binghamton; Thomas B. Kelley, Syracuse; William C. Leavenworth, Crawfordsville, Ind.; John G. Linn, Queens Village; William H. Masters, Cleveland, O.; Frank S. Mellor, Clark Mills; Frederick L. Nichols, Clinton; H. Stoddard Nichols, Herkimer and Utica; Rae F. Nichols, Brooklyn.

John P. Parrott, Geneva; Montgomery G. Pooley, Buffalo; Carleton G. Power, Albany; Alfred L. Putnam, Forestville; William E. Read, Flint, Michigan; Cleaves L. Rogers, Lockport; Anthony J. Ruscito, Utica; Raymond A. Russell, Buffalo; William E. Scott, Rome; Robert W. Shankland, Utica and Kenmore; John V. Thorp, Flushing; Duane C. Tucker, Auburn; George L. Waddington, Clark Mills.

Juniors

Sophomores

Upperclass PT Is Again Under Honor System

This fall the Honor Court will again sponsor the new upperclass Physical Training system that was tried out last spring. Under this plan the P. T. department and the Honor Court work hand in hand to enable the upperclassmen to get the most enjoyment possible out of their physical training.

No compulsory classes will be held for the juniors and seniors, but in place of these the two upperclasses will take their three hours a week of P. T. on their own pleasure, reporting what they did and when they did it on cards provided for that purpose. These cards are to be handed in by 12:00 o'clock noon on every Saturday. All upperclassmen are on their honor to do their three hours a week and to report them to Doc Bryden at the Gym. If any man is apprehended in an attempt to sign up for his three hours a week without having done the exercise that he has signed up for, his case will be handed over to the Honor Court. The men convicted of this fraud will be put back in regular P. T. classes.

This plan is still in the experimental stage, and if cooperation is lacking on the part of the upperclassmen, the system will be abandoned. This fall the plan will be in effect until Saturday, November 13. At that time regular upperclass P. T. classes will begin again. This is necessary because of the limited facilities for outside exercise at Hamilton during the winter months. If the idea is successful this fall, it will be tried again in the spring.

Redecoration of Chapel Interior Is Urged; Majority Favor Adoption of Colonial Motif

by Edwin W. Kellogg Jr., '39

One of the most beautiful buildings at Hamilton is the Chapel. Designed in 1826 by the famous church architect Philip Hooker, and built in 1828, the Chapel has appeared since that time on the covers of many Hamilton publications and has been a "must" for all sightseers and visiting photographers. Those who have seen it always remark on the beauty of its exterior, but few make any comment on the attractiveness of its interior.

In 1897, the interior of the Chapel was entirely renovated as the need for more room grew important. This work, however, was not done with any aesthetic view in mind, and consequently the inside of the Chapel is at present at complete odds with the outside. While its external appearance is bright, stately, and colonial in style, the interior is more or less of an intermixture of old and modern.

With an eye to having the interior of the Chapel redecorated, Hamilton Life interviewed several members of the faculty recently as to the desirability or feasibility of such a plan. With no exception, they agreed that the interior should be done over.

President Ferry pointed out the disagreeable contrasts between the green walls and the oak panelings and pews. He expressed his dislike of the stone work, especially the arch over the organ and the glary, ineffectual lighting system now in use. The balcony, he said, is pitched at the wrong angle, so that it is extremely difficult to observe the platform except from the first row. He pointed out that the organ is too boarded up to allow the sound to be brought out most effectively. He agreed with the others interviewed that the stained-glass windows are out of place and that clear glass windows would be better. It was his opinion that, although the interior is made up of many beautiful and striking things, they "don't fit."

Dean Ristine also was in accord with the need of redecorating the interior of the Chapel, but said, "If we had money for that sort of thing, there would be more pressing needs for it elsewhere." However, the lighting situation seemed to him to be of present and paramount importance. At present, said Dean Ristine, there is "such a dim light in the Chapel" that one often needs to use the "light of imagination" when trying to read Bible passages from the platform. He admitted the fact that the pews should be painted over and suggested a white color.

Mr. Johnson also expressed himself as being in favor of the change. He advocated "white pews with dark mahogany rails", a new lighting system, removal of the stone arch, and replacement of the stained-glass windows. Something certainly is needed, he stated, to "make the interior harmonize with the exterior."

Mr. Clement R. Newkirk, of Utica, was another whom Life questioned on the subject. Inasmuch as he has designed the Administration, Sage, Chemistry, and Biology-Geology Buildings, North College, several of the faculty homes, and a few fraternity houses, and has also drawn up plans for the new gymnasium, he might be called the present Hamilton College architect.

Mr. Newkirk's first objection was to the stained-glass windows; next in importance he placed a new seating arrangement, for "aesthetic as well as acoustic" improvement. The pews should be of a light color, "something between white and buff", and with mahogany rails. Another important feature of Mr. Newkirk's plan is a completely new arrangement of the organ end of the Chapel, with a new seating arrangement for the Choir. He expressed his desire for removal of the board ceiling, and wanted a colonial interior.

Mr. Edward W. Root, who has written a book on Philip Hooker and is an authority on church architecture, criticized the interior of the Chapel strongly. In accordance with Mr. Newkirk, he favored a complete restoration of the organ end of the Chapel, his main objection being "the railroad train effect" of the false organ pipes. He wanted these removed, and a Palladian Window installed in their place. In the center of this he would place a different arrangement of the organ, the choir seats, and a new pulpit to take the place of the present stand. He also wanted all of the stained-glass windows taken out, and advocated the installation of indirect lighting.

When students were asked for their opinions on the suggested redecorating, a majority answered in the affirmative, their criticisms falling mostly on the lighting system and stone arch. Others stated flatly that they couldn't "see anything wrong with the way the chapel is now" or that they hadn't "paid much attention to it."

Most of the aforementioned suggestions are practical and noteworthy, although one or two are obviously impossible of achievement at the present moment. However, some improvement of the Chapel's interior should be brought about. The Chapel is the one building which is used continuously and extensively by the college as a whole, and it is the place in which most lectures, concerts and debates are given. If ever funds are available, they certainly could not be used to better advantage then to redecorate the interior of the Chapel.

FOOTBALL—

tackles, both men averaging around 190 pounds. Marty Hilfinger at one end is a holdover from last year's varsity while Wi Sidle has apparently gained a permanent spot on the other end of the line.

The first string backfield is not yet definitely picked, but the chances are that Farrell, Sullivan, Masters, and Carmer will be starters for the Continentals against Trinity. Farrell handled the punting and passing last year and is doing the same job this year. Masters has proven himself an excellent blocking back and Sullivan's speed will prove helpful to the Continentals' atack.

Myron Carmer, captain of this year's Hamilton squad, is holding full sway in the fullback position and is playing the same steady game that he showed at center for the last two years. Undoubtedly he will prove himself the star of this year's season.

Other halfbacks who are sorely pressing the two before-mentioned are Towner, Riddleberger, Jack Thomas, Jones, and Connell, the last three of whom are sophomores. Charley Keane, another sophomore, has proven himself an excellent replacement for Farrell at the signal calling position.

Although Coach Winters has had only a few scrimmages as yet, the varsity's passing attack seems to be centered around Farrell and Carmer on the throwing end and Hilfinger at the receiving spot. The latter has shown exceptional skill at snatching passes a la Larry Kelley.

Gaboon to Appear Soon

The first issue of the Continental and Royal Gaboon will appear on the Saturday of houseparty week-end. As usual the number will be predominantly humorous. Later issues will feature more "literary" material, and all undergraduates are invited to contribute their work, whether it be fiction, poetry, or non-fiction.

Last year's Gaboon under John Baldwin and Donald Lewis was a vast improvement over previous years, and this year's staff plans further betterment of the magazine.

The staff for 1937-38 will consist of Robert W. Shankland, editor; DeLancey Floyd-Jones Jones, business manager; Robert Palmer, John G. Linn, Frank Merritt, and Edgar Glenn, assistants.

Seventy-five of the 272 members of the sophomore class at LaFayette College are either sons or relatives of alumni of the college, it is stated.

Scholarship Honors for 1937

At the chapel exercises last Thursday morning—the first of the year—Dr. Ferry read the list of scholarship honors of the classes of 1938, 1939, and 1940 for last year. Three members of both the senior and the sophomore classes attained high honor averages for last year, whereas only two of the juniors made an average of high honor. The complete list of honors follows:

Some students at Louisiana State University get the air for $5 an hour. They are members of the aviation class who fly the community plane.

Freshmen Meet Dean

Last Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock all the members of this year's freshman class gathered in the College Chapel in order to receive Hamilton's official welcome and to have certain details concerning such things as the honor system explained to them. At the same meeting the freshmen elected a rush leader for the flag rush the next morning and also laid plans for the rush itself.

Hamilton's official welcome to the Class of 1941 was given by Dean Frank H. Ristine, who told the freshmen that although the primary aim of college was to receive an education, the value of making good friends was also of vital importance. He gave the freshmen advice on the proper method of studying, indicating how one should divide one's time carefully between study and useful outside activities. The other speakers at the meeting included Wallace B. Johnson, Registrar; Edward N. Main of the Press Board, who passed out mimeographed sheets asking for the name of each freshman's home town papers; Myron Carmer, '38, representing Pentagon; and Winant Sidle, '38, who explained the working of the honor system at Hamilton and the importance of the Honor Court. Legare Hole, president of Was Los, presided over a meeting of the freshmen to select a leader for the flag rush the next morning. Wesley Perine, '41, was elected to lead his classmates into the traditional struggle with the sophomores.

Wallace B. Johnson, Registrar, sailed from New York City today on the S. S. Queen Mary for a two— or three-month vacation in Europe. He was accompanied by William B. Clark Jr., '37; they plan to spend a few weeks in England and France and to visit several other European countries. Mr. Johnson will return to Hamilton some time in December.

Only 79 Shopping Days Before Christmas

Think of It!

Last year a lot of men (and women too) left the important matter of ordering greeting cards until it was too late.

For the benefit of those who are prone to put this detail off until the last minute, we wish to announce that we have on display our new Christmas card samples.

If you are unable to call, telephone and we will send the samples for your inspection.
